Legal and Policy Considerations in the Context of Smart Cities

Harlan Onsrud, University of Maine

Potential roles for law in dealing with smart technologies:

- settling disputes
- protecting people against excessive or unfair private power
- protecting citizens against excessive or unfair government power
- maintaining order
- ensuring people an opportunity to enjoy the minimum decencies of life