Standardization as a governing mechanism

UNWGIC 2022

Paul Janssen: p.janssen@geonovum.nl

Agenda

- Scope of geo-information
- Role of Geonovum
- Standardisation as governance

Geonovum mission: Findable, accessible, interoperable en reusable geo-information

GKI Readiness index 2022

PILLAR 1 Integrated Policy Framework

- Core Geospatial Policies
- Enabling Policies
- Geospatial Mandate in Sectoral Policies
- UN-IGIF Adoption

PILLAR 2 Foundation Data

- Fundamental Themes
- Positioning Infrastructure
- Open & Linked Data
- Earth Observation Infrastructure

PILLAR 3 Partnerships and Collaborations

- International Partnership
- Geospatial Collaborations

PILLAR 4 Industry Leadership

- Industry Capacity
- Innovation Promotion Programs
- Industry Networks

PILLAR 5 Applications, Analytics & Modelling

- Stages of Technology Architecture
- User Adoption
- 4IR Adoption

PILLAR 6 Geospatial Dimension to Digital Infrastructure

- Spatial Data Access
- Standards
- Institutional Capacity
- Capacity Building
- Digital Readiness

Topics addressed

Data distribution

- API's (including when to use – who benefits?)
- Linked open data (including when to use – who benefits?)
- Light encodings (JSON, Geo-package)

It's all about data and semantics

Need for semantic, syntactic and technical interoperability

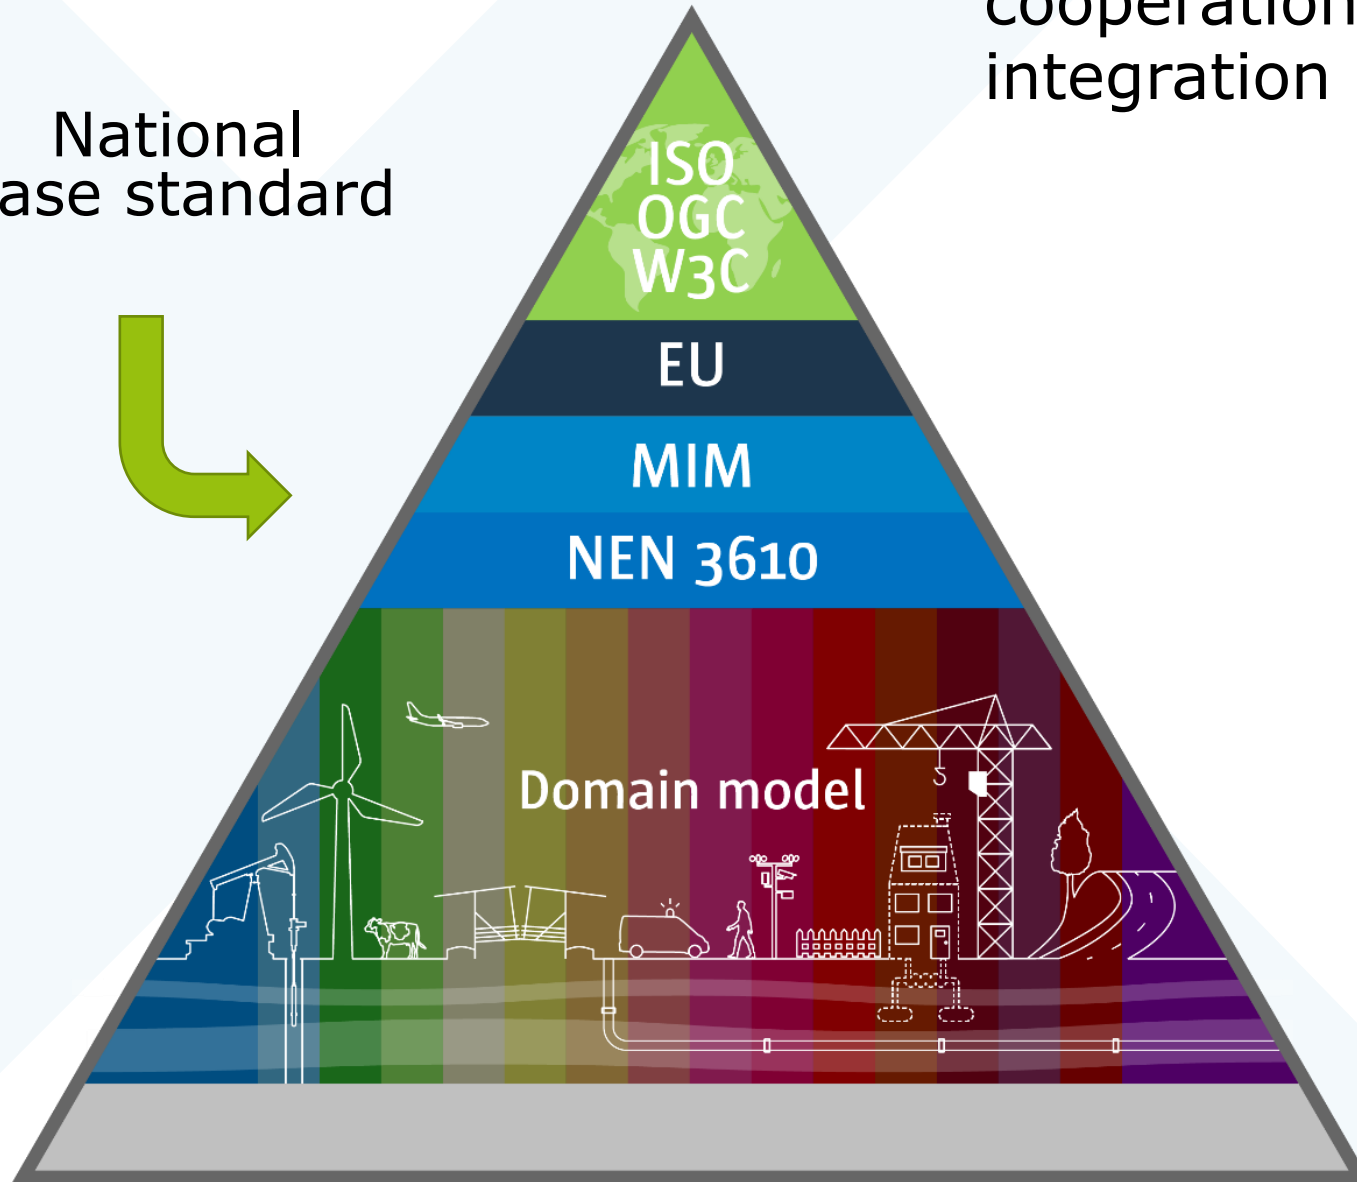

- Spatial zoning 2015
- Spatial zoning 2022
- Water
- Rural area
- Nature conservation
- National security
- Utility services
- Cadastral registry
- Cultural history
- Large scale geography
- Maintenance public areas
- Observations and measurements
- Register on soil and geology
- Register on buildings and addresses
- Register on property value
- Earius nitrogen deposition
- Register on small scale topography
- Register on external security
- Register on noise
- Landscape features
- Access and navigation
- Smart grid
- Energy/Power installations

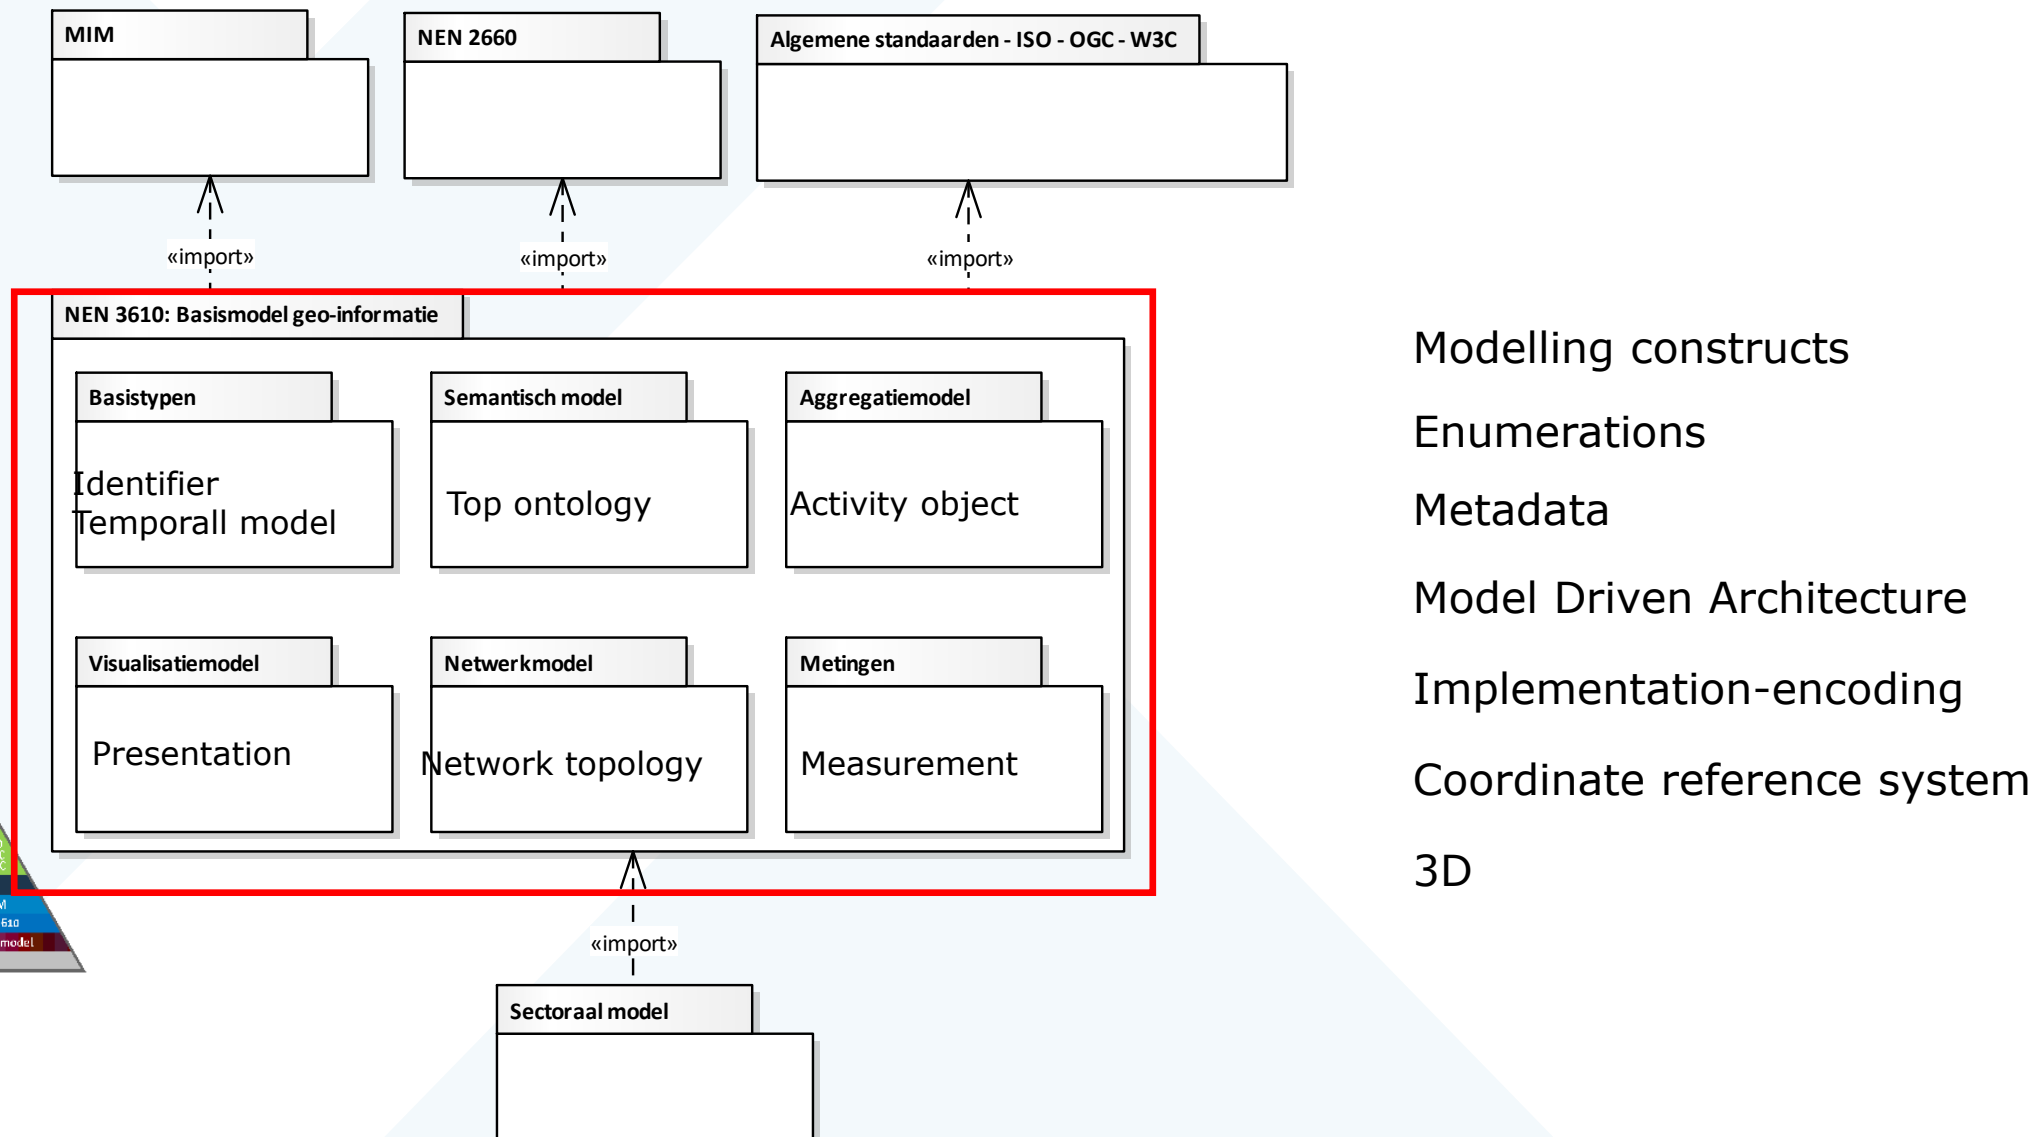

Governance by standards: Framework for cooperation - integration

National base standard

- Spatial zoning 2015
- Spatial zoning 2022

Access and distribution of information is shaping society

Geo-information is a large part there-off

Think of navigation, location based services, the power of where....

So we do have an impact on human and social affairs

Understand human and social affairs

technical framework – social framework

A stylized illustration of a globe with a light blue and green color scheme. A diverse group of people in various professional and casual attire are shown holding hands in a circle around the globe, symbolizing global unity and social framework. The background is a soft, light blue gradient.
